President's Editorial

Dear BOAD investors,

I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude for your unwavering support and steadfast commitment to BOAD. Your partnerships, investments, and collaborations have been instrumental in driving our progress, enabling us to continue advancing our mission of promoting sustainable development across the WAEMU region. A notable affirmation of the trust placed in our institution is the recent decision by Moody's rating agency to affirm our Baa1 rating, alongside a change in outlook from negative to stable.

One of our most notable achievements during the third quarter of 2024 was the first EUR-denominated green hybrid private placement with Cassa Depositi e Prestiti (CDP) acting as the sole investor on behalf of the Italian Climate Fund. This EUR 100 mn bond is designed to strengthen our capital base and unlock EUR 400 mn in new financing for renewable energy projects, which will provide access to electricity for hundreds of thousands of people across our member countries, reduce CO₂ emissions, and lower energy costs. This transaction follows our successful issuance of the first USD 100 mn hybrid bond in December 2023 through a private placement with BADEA, marking a continued strategy to leverage innovative instruments for sustainable growth.

To further demonstrate our commitment to creating tailor-made solutions for the challenges faced by our member countries, we launched the "Disaster Adapted Loan" program. This innovative initiative offers protection against specific natural and health disasters in our region. The program was developed in partnership with African Risk Capacity Limited (ARC Ltd), Munich RE, KfW, and the Frankfurt School of Finance & Management, highlighting BOAD's leadership in developing adaptive financial instruments, providing our members with the flexibility and resilience needed during times of crisis.

I am also proud to announce that BOAD Securitization successfully finalized a XOF 160 bn transaction, aimed at securitizing a BOAD portfolio of non-sovereign loans. This initiative attracted both regional and international investors, underscoring the broad interest in innovative financing within our region. This transaction aligns perfectly with our Strategic Plan Djoliba, which seeks to optimize asset management and mobilize additional resources for critical projects across key sectors.

Finally, I am pleased to inform you that our operations continue to progress strongly. At the 143rd session of our Board's meeting held on 20 September 2024, six new operations were approved, totaling XOF 105.6 bn. This brings BOAD's cumulative financing since the commencement of its operations in 1976 to XOF 8,854.3 bn, reflecting our ongoing commitment to driving impactful development across the region.

In conclusion, I would like to express my deepest appreciation to you, our valued BOAD partners and investors, for your ongoing trust and collaboration. Together, we have achieved remarkable milestones, and I am confident that even greater successes lie ahead as we continue working collectively towards the shared development and prosperity of our region. Your support is fundamental to the impact we generate, and I look forward to building on this momentum in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Serge Ekué

The innovative and unique nature of this instrument lies in the combination of a subsidized loan offer with a parametric insurance product against the impacts of natural and health disaster. In events such as drought, flooding, epidemic or pandemic, the insurance mechanism will be triggered, temporarily lifting borrowers' repayment obligations therefore providing flexibility and rapid financial relief. The innovative solution is the result of a cooperation between the African Risk Capacity Limited (ARC Ltd), which insures BOAD against losses related to the deferral of annual instalments, Munich RE, which provides reinsurance to ARC Ltd and which has been mandated with Frankfurt School of Finance by KfW to develop and implement this project.

August 30th

August 2nd

On 2 August 2024, BOAD signed an agreement for the issuance of the first EUR-denominated green hybrid bond with Cassa Depositi e Prestiti (CDP) acting on behalf of the Italian Climate Fund. The EUR 100 mn groundbreaking bond issue, the first of its kind by a Multilateral Development Bank is designed to bolster the bank's capital base, support its credit rating, and thereby safeguard its ability to access international financing at competitive rates. The hybrid structure provides substantial leverage, enabling EUR 400 mn in new financing for our member countries and local economies without compromising the bank's financial ratios, competitiveness, or its ability to offer financing at favorable terms. The funds will be allocated to the construction and rehabilitation of electricity generation infrastructure from renewable sources. This will provide access to electricity for hundreds of thousands of citizens, diversify the energy mix, reduce CO₂ emissions, and lower energy production costs across the WAEMU member countries.
